Everyone's a part of the final design?
If it worked that way, it would be fine.
If we're all involved, then what about me?
Is there a part that I can't see?
I dream of being a part of it,
too,
But I just can't make my dreams
come true.
Please show me how I should begin;
I cannot find where I fit in.
Someone tell me what to do;
I want to be a winner, too.
I want to run and pass them by,
And stretch my hands to touch
the sky.

Maria Sutherland

Before all elements are placed as one,
Unimportant everything is done.
For undivided is our line —
Everyone's a part of the final design.

Dorene Strelinski

If men will move on,
Then each must align —
For each shares a part of the final design.

Laura Magone

Let us be together
as a whole
or as one,

But
never let us forget our individuality.

For this, above all,
must be preserved for as long as we shall live.

Linda Williams

The world is made up of many people,
but without you it isn't complete.

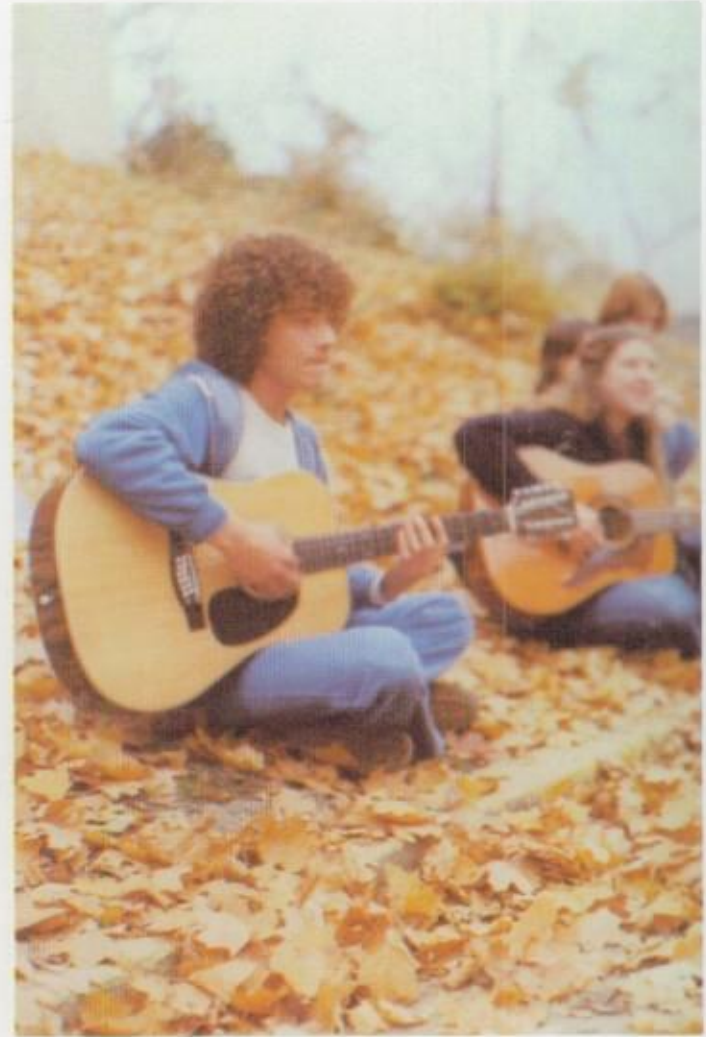

Diane Broggi

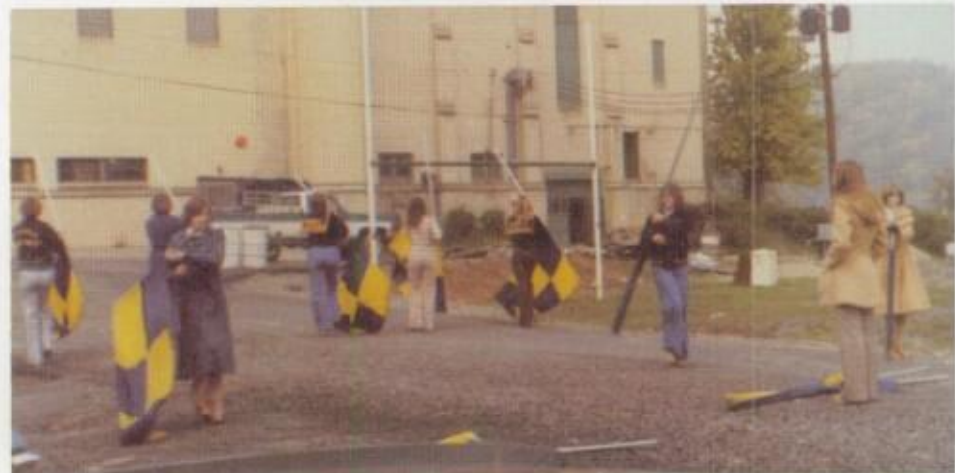

More than one creative idea is necessary;
Everyone's a part of the final design.

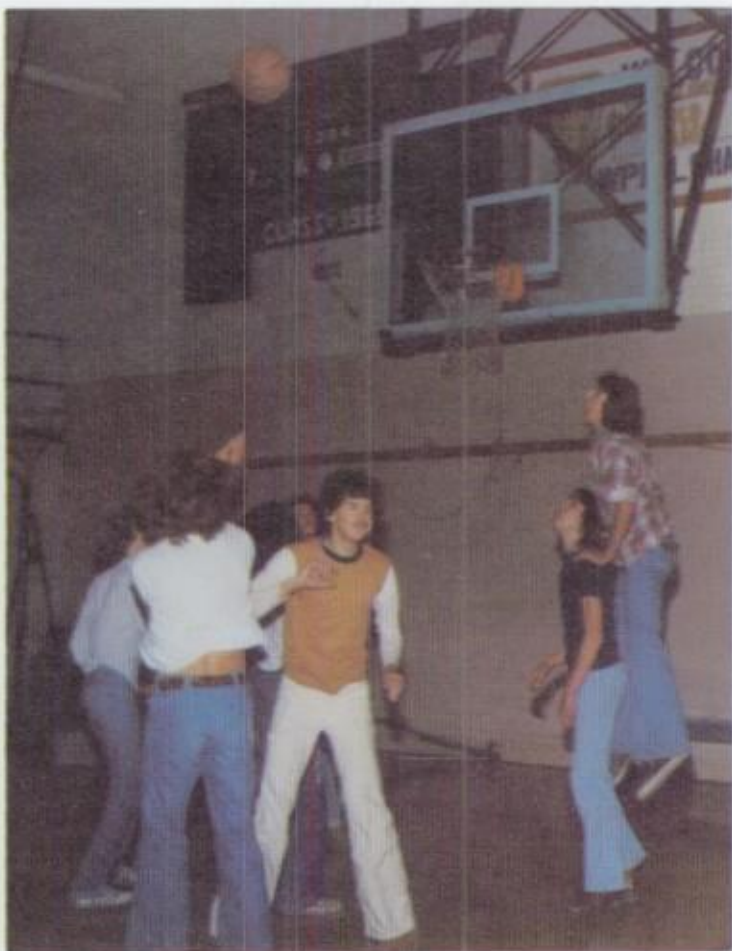

Michele Tokar

What you are and what you do
are a part of something bigger than yourself.

Kristyn Meucci

Not a single star above can call itself
the sky.

Instead, the millions — in perfect arrangement — make up the heavens.

As each one of us is just a fragment of mankind's beauty.

George Crompton

If everyone contributes His own special part
and personality,
The intricate design of the world
will be complete.
Amy Power

We join together to form mankind,
and you're the one I stand behind.
A new door will open soon —
it won't be leading to the moon.
but leading out to life.

Karin Gottselig

Each person has his own special place in the world.
No one else can fill your place better than you can.
You are important just because you are you!

Denise Ferbas

Each person has a design,
One that is separate and unique from every other individual.
But each individual comes together to become part of a larger and more complex design.

Carol Thayer

Look at the people around you —
All of them doing their own thing,
going their own way,
seemingly uninterested in other people.

Jill Gibson

"We are a People, one tiny fragment of the immense mosaic of life . . . The ALL does not belong to us. We belong to the ALL."

— Ben Logan

The final design is what we are —
All of us together.

Our tomorrows rolled away . . .
unfolded in the past they lay.
Now we call them yesterday,
when memories were made.
Locked forever in the past,
today has journeyed there so fast.
We've only memories to grasp of life's role that we have played.
Still, today it's not too late,
for magic moments we'll relate,
if we will just leave out the hate,
as to the past they fade.

Learning is like a puzzle:
When you are born, you know little;
So you mean little to the design.
Each year, you learn something;
Your piece takes shape, and
As you finish high school,
You begin the next part of your piece,
And the next part, and the next part,
Until, in return,
Your piece of the puzzle fits into the design,
And you are a part of the final design.

Let us see not only the individual,
Whose differences separate us,
Whose greatness in himself
multiplies a hundred-fold

Our dependence upon each other is permissive,
Leaving us free to be ourselves

People are like ideas;
 Flourishing in the mind
 they give light and life and wisdom.
 And when their purpose is complete,

Each person on earth (billions of them)
is as much a marvel as you:
yet each person needs others.
We work together:
I don't have to reinvent arithmetic to count my socks
or plant wheat seeds in order to eat bread.
Someone else has already done those things.
Turn the radio on and an amazing creature will tell you the weather.
He got it from another wonderful creature who got it from another and invented by yet another who isn't even alive anymore.
How well off would you be if this morning

you had to do everything:
make your own food,
house,
socks,
car?
Where would you be without all those unseen people?
Isn't it incredible
how we share?

*The Sophomore Year . . .
the ground-breaking of the future
the starting of a set course,
a plan,
a beginning,*

*each student out on a journey and each journey constantly intertwining with the others,
molding the future,
each playing his part in the design of life . . .*

Everyone is a part of the final design going on through the years is a part of the climb reach up, reach out, try to find your own way
It will all come together and have a meaning someday.

People begin it
and people end it.
Some build it up,
while others tear it down.

It is how we use our creativity or destructiveness
in the end.

Whatever design
is finally formed,
it is the people who are responsible.

The final design may not be part of everyone, but everyone is truly
a part of the final design.

Arithmetic

Arithmetic is where numbers fly like pigeons in and out of your head.

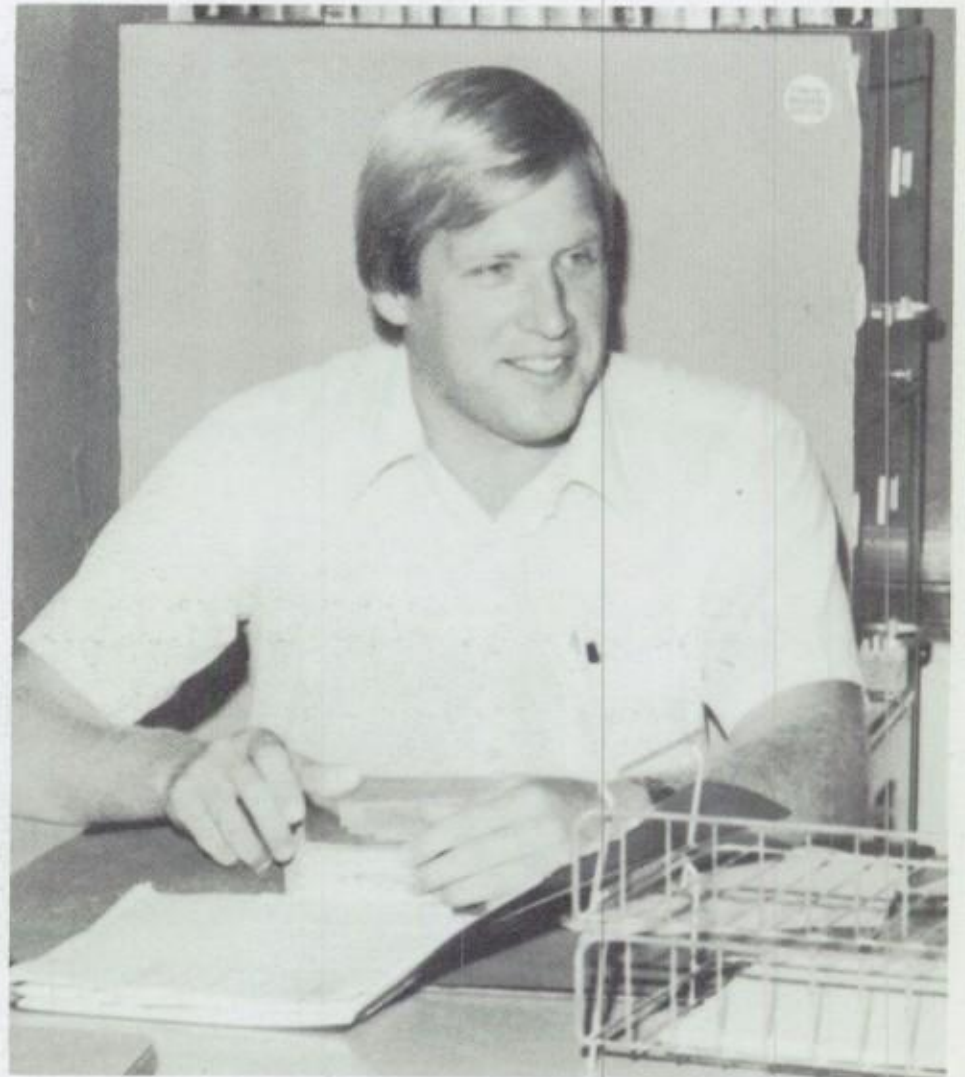

Arithmetic tells you how many you lose or win if you know how many you had before you lost or won.

Arithmetic is seven eleven all good children go to heaven — or five six bundle of sticks.

Arithmetic is numbers you squeeze from your head to your hand to your pencil to your paper till you get the answer.

Arithmetic is where the answer is right and everything is nice and you can look out of the window and see the blue sky — or the answer is wrong and you have to start all over and try again and see how it comes out this time.

Mrs. Bridges smiles instead of giving her "hecky-dern" of exasperation.

Mrs. Morris enjoys lecturing her class on Ernest Hemmingway.

Miss Grillo is amused when one of her students gives his idea of the perfect English teacher.

Mrs. Anderson demonstrates her expert speech ability by doing the daily announcements.

Miss Williams explains to her class the importance of a broad vocabulary.

Mrs. Semarge tells one of her students that an adjective is not a person, place or thing.

Mrs. Veraldi can't keep her mind off of taking attendance.

Mr. Robson patiently waits for his shoes to be shined.

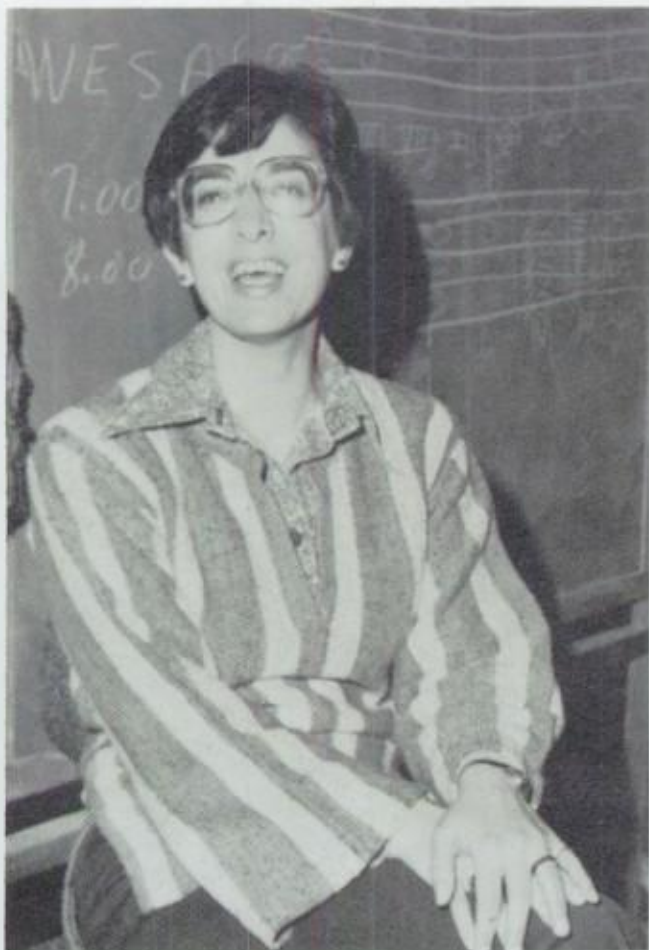

Mrs. Vigliotti outlines a new project for her class.

Fine Arts

Mr. Popielarski instructs his students on the proper way to antique an object.

Mrs. Spadero shows the proper way to sing, "Bubble Gum. Bubble Gum."

Mrs. LeDonne has discovered a new recipe for disciplining her students.

Mr. Kavalec has his own ideas about fishing.

The design could never be complete without the enrichment of fine arts in our lives.

Mr. Frederick takes a moment from his busy track schedule to smile for the camera.

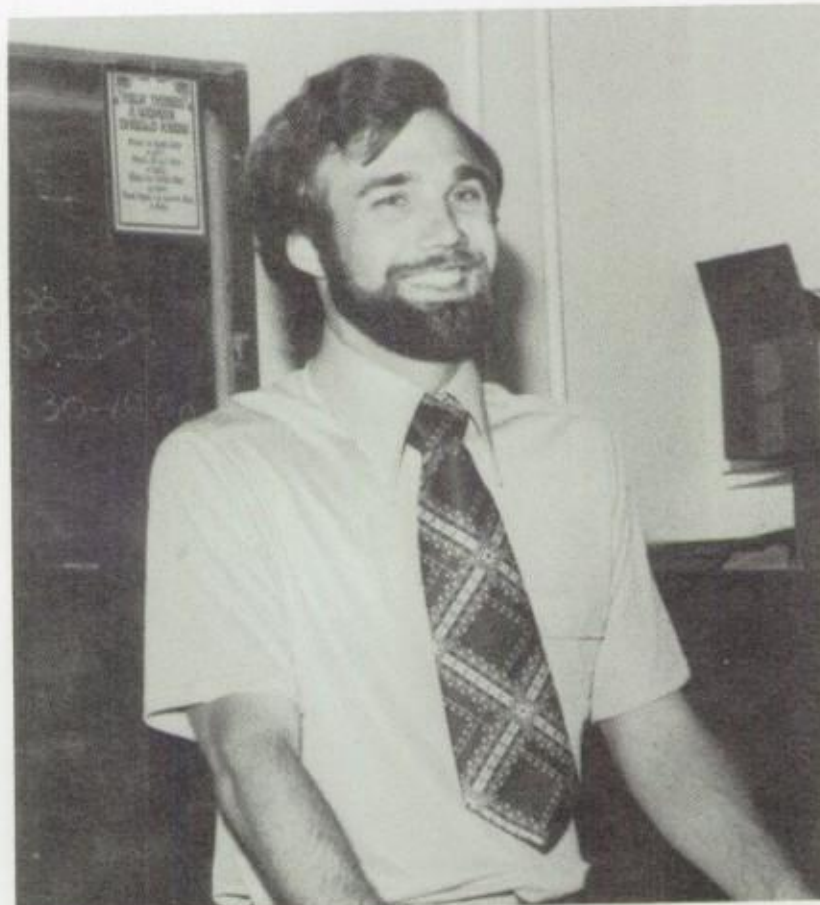

Mr. Cattaneo explains the importance of one hundred point exams.

Social Studies

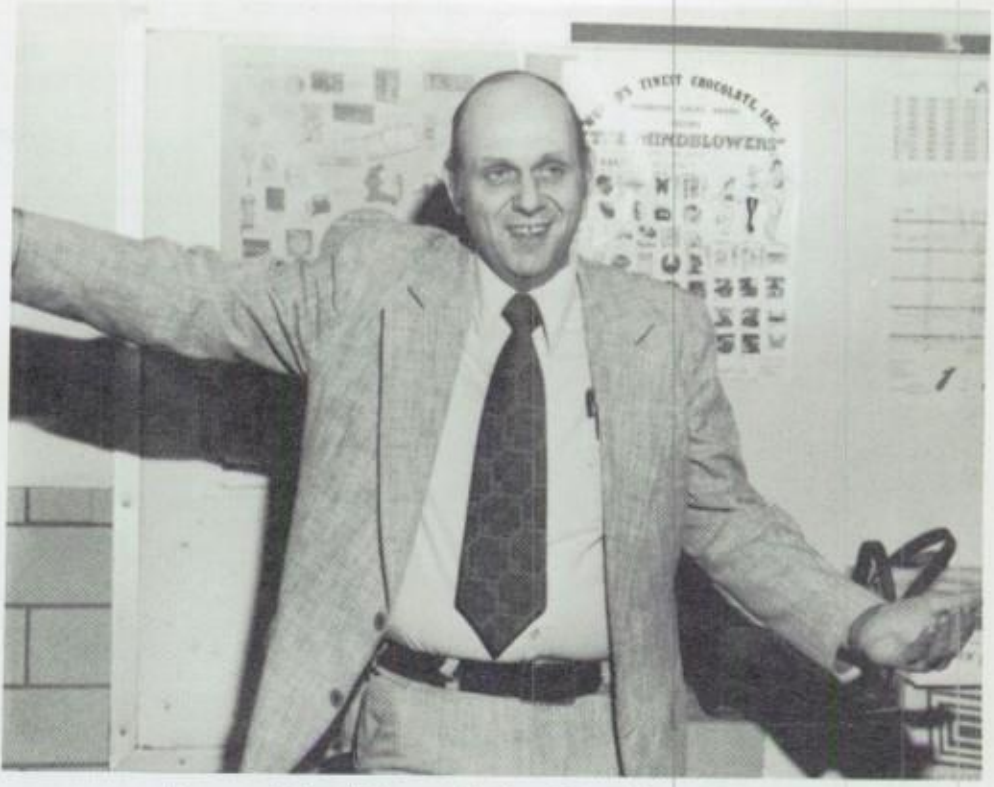

Mr. Echert has devised a new way of making money.

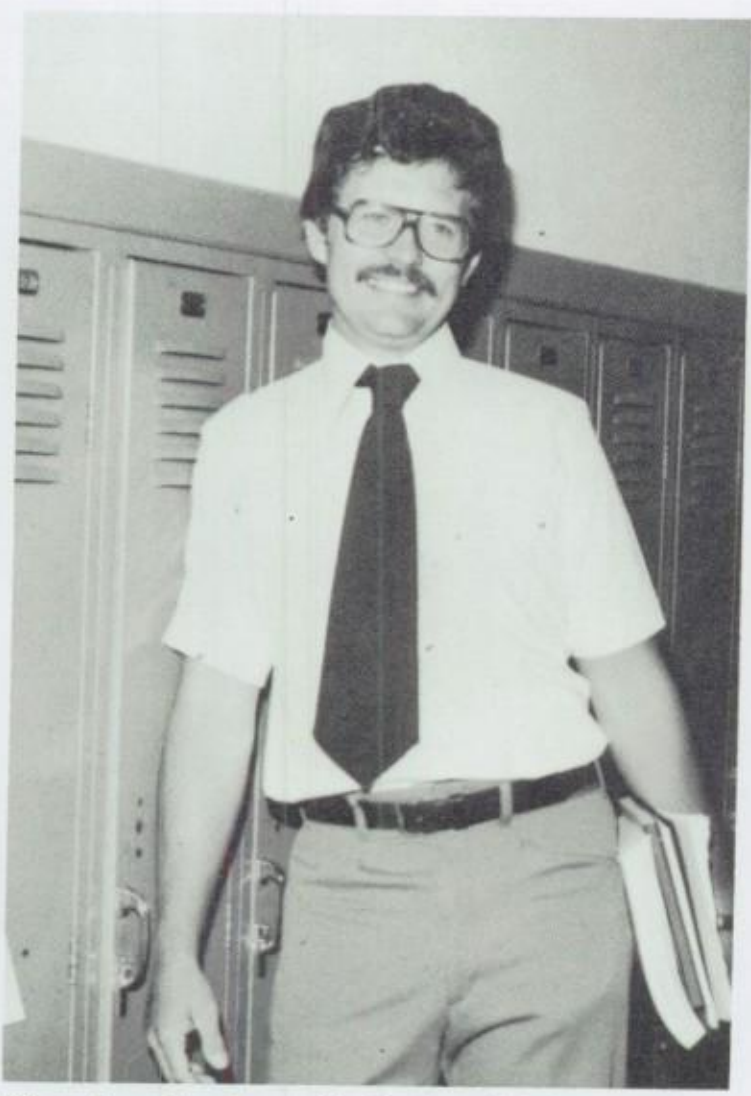

"Are you ready to learn the many concepts of Freud?" asks Mr. Lonich.

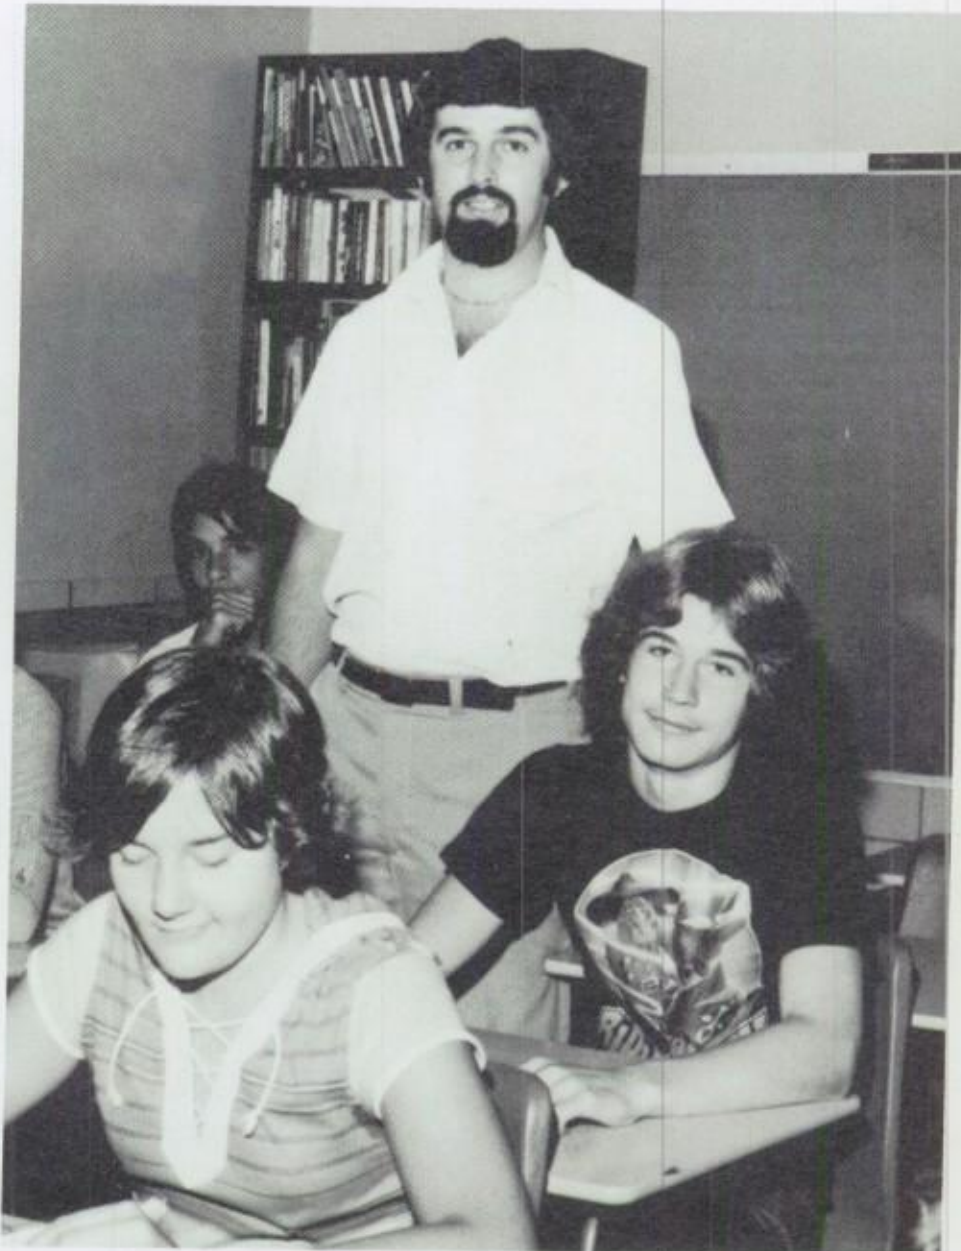

Mr. Vasiloff proclaims, "What do you mean Political Science is difficult?"

"... and that fish was this long!" exclaims Mr. Wolf.

"Geez. I wasn't trying to skip. I'm just a little late," says Mr. Connally.

Kim Meucci and Joe Pacolay can't believe Mr. Carson told another one of his jokes!

Mrs. Smith greets each day with a smile.

Mr. Abramski tells his students that good health is important.

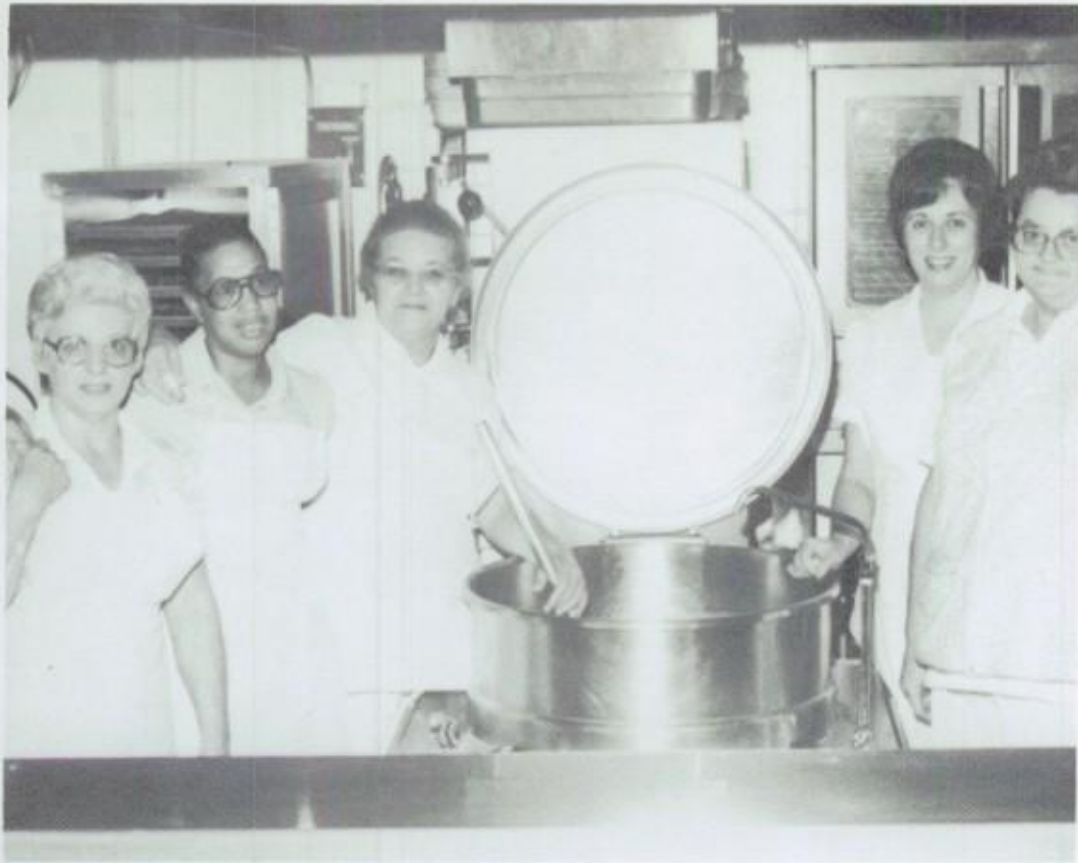

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Miss Cecchini can just smile as she listens to the 15th gym excuse of the day.

Mr. Dean expects his students to be interested in soccer as well as health.

William R. Garlitz — Assistant Principal.

Principal: G. Thomas Caudill

Have you been a dedicated member of the Class of 78? I am sure that each of you has been dedicated to something. You may be dedicated to dodging all responsibility that comes your way, to a policy of just getting a passing grade, or to a school life of going along with the crowd and having fun.

On the other hand, you may be dedicated to a career of usefulness which will give many people the benefit of your education, common sense and future contributions.

You need to be dedicated to your family, teachers, the Class of 78, your state and nation, and your own good name.

Good Luck seniors and remember that dedication helps make the difference between the successful person in life and the unsuccessful follower.

No man is an Iland, intire of it selfe; every man is a peece of the Continent, a part of the maine; if a Clod bee washed away by the Sea, Europe is the lesse, as well as if a Promontorie were, as well as if a Mannor of thy friends or of thine owne were; any mans death diminishes me, because I am involved in Mankinde; And therefore never send to know for whom the bell tolls; It tolls for thee.
